Funeral Arrangements

- In Connecticut, you may name an agent for body disposition if you want someone other than your next-of-kin to be in charge.
- Connecticut is one of only eight states that require you to use a funeral director even for a home funeral.
- The funeral home must give prices over the telephone if you call. You must be given a General Price List (GPL) if you visit in person and before discussing any services.
- You must be shown a Casket and Outer Burial Container Price List before selecting either.
- You must be given a Statement of Funeral Goods and Services Selected with the total cost before any services are provided.
- The funeral consumer group in this state does a price survey every two years or so. Get a link here: www.funerals.org

Do not sign any contract for more than you can afford to pay. If the deceased was indigent, you may apply to the Department of Social Services for a grant up to $1,800. There is no other organization that assists with costs.

Autopsy

- If the death was unexpected or the cause of death uncertain, the state will probably require an autopsy.
- If you have questions about the death, you may request and pay for an private autopsy.
- If a viewing is planned, there will likely be extra charges to repair the body for embalming.

Organ, Body, and Tissue Donation

- If death occurs in the hospital, you are likely to be asked about organ donation. Only about 1% of the deaths are eligible for major organ donation. The organ procurement organization (OPO) will pay for any extra body preparation needed if you plan a viewing. Decline any such charge you might find on the GPL.
- After-death donation of eyes, skin, and long bones may be considered. Ask the hospital social worker or the funeral director about this.
- Whole body donation to a medical school is one way to lower costs. After study, the school will cremate the body and return the cremated remains to the family if requested. You should have back-up funeral plans if your body cannot be accepted for any reason.
- There are also non-academic companies that accept whole bodies for research and education. Various body parts will likely be shipped around the country and possibly internationally. The state has no laws regulating these companies. Note that this is an entirely different category of body donation from the traditional cadaver donation to a medical school.
- To find the nearest body donation option, the cost if any, and the reasons for body rejection check: www.finalrights.org

Embalming and Other Requirements

- Embalming is not required by law in this state for any circumstance. However, when death is due to a contagious disease, it must be handled by a licensed embalmer.
- While many airlines prefer that a body be embalmed, an airtight container may make that optional.
- Many funeral homes have a policy that requires embalming for a public viewing. Embalming does not protect the public health. It merely delays decomposition.

Caskets and Vaults

- Neither is required by state law for burial. A rigid combustible container is required for cremation.
- A casket will not prevent natural decomposition.
- You may build your own or purchase from a casket retailer. Vault dealers rarely sell to the public.
- The purpose of a vault is to keep the ground from caving in. It facilitates maintenance for the cemetery. It has no preservative qualities regardless of how much you spend.

Burial

- There are no laws that specifically permit or prohibit burial on your own land, but you should check the zoning laws. Burial must be 350 feet from a dwelling place, one-half mile from a reservoir, 600 feet from an ice pond, and the top of the casket must be two-and-a-half feet from the surface of the earth. A good practice would be to draw a map of the land showing where the family cemetery will be and see if the local Health Department will approve. Then have it recorded with the deed.
- If you purchase a lot in a commercial, town, or religious cemetery, you will have the opening and closing costs in addition to the cost of the plot.
- Some cemeteries have restrictions on the kind of monuments or plantings and adornment allowed.
- A permit for disinterment must be obtained from the local Health Department.

Embalming and Other Requirements

- Embalming is required by law in this state for any circumstance. However, when death is due to a contagious disease, it must be handled by a licensed embalmer.
- While many airlines prefer that a body be embalmed, an airtight container may make that optional.
- Many funeral homes have a policy that requires embalming for a public viewing. Embalming does not protect the public health. It merely delays decomposition.

Caskets and Vaults

- Neither is required by state law for burial. A rigid combustible container is required for cremation.
- A casket will not prevent natural decomposition.
- You may build your own or purchase from a casket retailer. Vault dealers rarely sell to the public.
- The purpose of a vault is to keep the ground from caving in. It facilitates maintenance for the cemetery. It has no preservative qualities regardless of how much you spend.

Burial

- There are no laws that specifically permit or prohibit burial on your own land, but you should check the zoning laws. Burial must be 350 feet from a dwelling place, one-half mile from a reservoir, 600 feet from an ice pond, and the top of the casket must be two-and-a-half feet from the surface of the earth. A good practice would be to draw a map of the land showing where the family cemetery will be and see if the local Health Department will approve. Then have it recorded with the deed.
- If you purchase a lot in a commercial, town, or religious cemetery, you will have the opening and closing costs in addition to the cost of the plot.
- Some cemeteries have restrictions on the kind of monuments or plantings and adornment allowed.
- A permit for disinterment must be obtained from the local Health Department.

Cremation

- There is a 48-hour wait prior to cremation unless death was due to a communicable disease.
- A medical examiner’s permit is required.
- A cremation permit from the registrar must be obtained. • A medical examiner’s permit is required. • A cremation permit from the registrar must be obtained. • The funeral home must give prices over the telephone if you call. You must be given a General Price List (GPL) if you visit in person and before discussing any services. • You must be shown a Casket and Outer Burial Container Price List before selecting either. • You must be given a Statement of Funeral Goods and Services Selected with the total cost before any services are provided. • The funeral consumer group in this state does a price survey every two years or so. Get a link here: www.funerals.org • Do not sign any contract for more than you can afford to pay. If the deceased was indigent, you may apply to the Department of Social Services for a grant up to $1,800. There is no other organization that assists with costs. • Whole body donation to a medical school is one way to lower costs. After study, the school will cremate the body and return the cremated remains to the family if requested. You should have back-up funeral plans if your body cannot be accepted for any reason. • There are also non-academic companies that accept whole bodies for research and education. Various body parts will likely be shipped around the country and possibly internationally. The state has no laws regulating these companies. Note that this is an entirely different category of body donation from the traditional cadaver donation to a medical school. • To find the nearest body donation option, the cost if any, and the reasons for body rejection check: www.finalrights.org • Embalming and Other Requirements • Embalming is not required by law in this state for any circumstance. However, when death is due to a contagious disease, it must be handled by a licensed embalmer. • While many airlines prefer that a body be embalmed, an airtight container may make that optional. • Many funeral homes have a policy that requires embalming for a public viewing. Embalming does not protect the public health. It merely delays decomposition. • Caskets and Vaults • Neither is required by state law for burial. A rigid combustible container is required for cremation. • A casket will not prevent natural decomposition. • You may build your own or purchase from a casket retailer. Vault dealers rarely sell to the public. • The purpose of a vault is to keep the ground from caving in. It facilitates maintenance for the cemetery. It has no preservative qualities regardless of how much you spend. • Burial • There are no laws that specifically permit or prohibit burial on your own land, but you should check the zoning laws. Burial must be 350 feet from a dwelling place, one-half mile from a reservoir, 600 feet from an ice pond, and the top of the casket must be two-and-a-half feet from the surface of the earth. A good practice would be to draw a map of the land showing where the family cemetery will be and see if the local Health Department will approve. Then have it recorded with the deed. • If you purchase a lot in a commercial, town, or religious cemetery, you will have the opening and closing costs in addition to the cost of the plot. • Some cemeteries have restrictions on the kind of monuments or plantings and adornment allowed. • A permit for disinterment must be obtained from the local Health Department. • Cremation • There is a 48-hour wait prior to cremation unless death was due to a communicable disease. • A medical examiner’s permit is required. • A cremation permit from the registrar must be obtained. A permit for disinterment must be obtained from the local Health Department. • Veterans and Their Dependents • You will need a copy of the DD214 discharge papers for gaining benefits. • There is no national veterans cemetery in Connecticut, but there are state veterans cemeteries in Darien (closed), Middletown, and Rocky Hill (limited space). Internment and marker are free of charge for the veteran, spouse, and certain dependants, although there may be nominal charges for a non-veteran spouse in the future. Family must pay for a vault when body burial is chosen for both veteran or spouse. Some towns, such as Windsor and Watertown, have veterans cemeteries or veterans sections in their town cemeteries. • The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) provides markers for veterans no matter where they are interred. Markers can be upright or flat, and they come in bronze, marble, and granite. (800) 697-6947. • A free flag can be ordered through the U.S. Postal Service.

Veterans and Their Dependents

- You will need a copy of the DD214 discharge papers for gaining benefits.
- There is no national veterans cemetery in Connecticut, but there are state veterans cemeteries in Darien (closed), Middletown, and Rocky Hill (limited space). Internment and marker are free of charge for the veteran, spouse, and certain dependants, although there may be nominal charges for a non-veteran spouse in the future. Family must pay for a vault when body burial is chosen for both veteran or spouse. Some towns, such as Windsor and Watertown, have veterans cemeteries or veterans sections in their town cemeteries.
- The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) provides markers for veterans no matter where they are interred. Markers can be upright or flat, and they come in bronze, marble, and granite. (800) 697-6947.
- A free flag can be ordered through the U.S. Postal Service.
Prepaying the Funeral Home

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Pros</th>
<th>Cons</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>You have total control of the funds.</td>
<td>Asset for Medicaid purposes.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Can easily change plans or use for emergencies.</td>
<td>You must declare interest on your tax return.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Can make time payments easily.</td>
<td>Penalty to cash CD prior to death.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Pay on Death Savings Account or Bank CD

- If the contract guarantees the price, the interest is supposed to cover funeral inflation. But many investments do not appreciate as fast as the prices climb. You have a right to insist on no extra charges if it is clearly identified in the contract as "price guaranteed." Any substitutions should be of equal quality to that described in the contract.
- Prices of third-party items such as the crematory fee or obituary cannot be guaranteed.
- Warehousing can avoid any trust requirements for cemetery merchandise, making a refund impossible.

- Setting aside assets for Medicaid eligibility is the one time it makes sense to prepay for a funeral. There is a limit of $5,400 in an irrevocable account. Be sure to ask if you will be getting an annual report of your prepaid funds and let those who will be handling your affairs know that you have prepaid and where.
- There is no guarantee fund to protect against embezzlement.

Social Security Death Benefit

- There is a $255 death benefit for a surviving spouse. There is no similar benefit when that spouse dies.
- Dependent children are entitled to survivor benefits when a parent dies.

Qualified Funeral Trust

- If irrevocable, it won’t be an asset for Medicaid.
- The trust pays taxes on the interest.
- The funeral home may keep 5% if you move or cancel.
- If paying over time, you may pay twice the face value.
- The insurance company pays the taxes.
- If you need to cancel, you may not get back more than half you paid.
- If paying over time, you may pay twice the face value.

- There may be a 30-day delay in receiving funds for which the funeral home may charge an extra fee.

- Valid complaints include dishonesty, misrepresentation, unprofessional conduct, negligence, breach of contract, violation of state or federal laws. For how to file a complaint, see: www.funerals.org/your-legal-rights/complaint
- The Department of Public Health: http://www.ct.gov/dph

Your Funeral Consumer Rights in Connecticut

A comprehensive list of veterans benefits can be found here: http://www.funerals.org/faq/60-veterans-funeral-and-burial-benefits

Prepaying for a Funeral

- If the contract guarantees the price, the interest is supposed to cover funeral inflation. But many investments do not appreciate as fast as the prices climb. You have a right to insist on no extra charges if it is clearly identified in the contract as "price guaranteed." Any substitutions should be of equal quality to that described in the contract.
- Prices of third-party items such as the crematory fee or obituary cannot be guaranteed.
- Warehousing can avoid any trust requirements for cemetery merchandise, making a refund impossible.

- Setting aside assets for Medicaid eligibility is the one time it makes sense to prepay for a funeral. There is a limit of $5,400 in an irrevocable account. Be sure to ask if you will be getting an annual report of your prepaid funds and let those who will be handling your affairs know that you have prepaid and where.
- There is no guarantee fund to protect against embezzlement.

Social Security Death Benefit

- There is a $255 death benefit for a surviving spouse. There is no similar benefit when that spouse dies.
-Dependent children are entitled to survivor benefits when a parent dies.

Qualified Funeral Trust

- If irrevocable, it won’t be an asset for Medicaid.
- The trust pays taxes on the interest.
- The funeral home may keep 5% if you move or cancel.
- If paying over time, you may pay twice the face value.
- The insurance company pays the taxes.
- If you need to cancel, you may not get back more than half you paid.
- If paying over time, you may pay twice the face value.

- There may be a 30-day delay in receiving funds for which the funeral home may charge an extra fee.

- Valid complaints include dishonesty, misrepresentation, unprofessional conduct, negligence, breach of contract, violation of state or federal laws. For how to file a complaint, see: www.funerals.org/your-legal-rights/complaint
- The Department of Public Health: http://www.ct.gov/dph

Much of the information for this brochure was taken from Final Rights: Reclaiming the American Way of Death (Upper Access, 2011) www.finalrights.org

Additional information may be found at www.funerals.org

Funeral Ethics Organization
87 Upper Access Rd.
Hinesburg, VT 05461
http://www.funeralethics.org

2012